Dr. Najoli Calls on Chamber of Commerce to Invite All Candidates to Debate

Herman for Hamilton

CINCINNATI – The campaign of educator and public servant, Dr. Herman Najoli, is calling on the Greater Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce to invite all ballot-qualified candidates running for Hamilton County Commissioner to the fall debate. There are critical issues facing our county and it is imperative that all the voices that have done what it takes to gain ballot access be on the debate stage together to voice their opinions on how the county should move forward. There are only five (5) candidates running for Commissioner. All of them should participate equally in all debates.

The Greater Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce is known for espousing the values of inclusion, diversity, growing local talent, connecting the community, and growing business. It is essential that they demonstrate a commitment to living up to these values in everything that they do. The act of leaving out any candidate is exclusionary and a mark of privilege by those in power who engender disenfranchisement in our society. In this day and era, the public is crying out for equality for all.

In this year 2020, exactly 230 years since the founding of Hamilton County, Dr. Najoli has accomplished one of the most amazing feats in county history. Starting in April 2019 and working all by himself, he gathered 6,847 signatures over a 10-month petition drive to qualify for the ballot. He submitted his signatures to the Board of Elections on a symbolic 230 pages on January 15, 2020 – the birth date of the great civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who fought for equality and an end to discrimination in the US.

The Friends of Najoli campaign is calling on the Greater Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce to help advance a Hamilton County where everyone is given a fair chance to go as far as their abilities can take them. Our county is a place where all belong. More information:
