Election forum becomes studio chat after only one candidate shows up

Herman for Hamilton

PRICE HILL, OH – Since 1987, Waycross Community Media has organized stellar Election Forums which have been a powerful tool for the public to gain information on the candidates running for local office. The 2020 LIVE forum however became a studio chat after only candidate showed up, Dr. Herman Najoli. Dr. Najoli is the Independent, non-party candidate running for the open seat on the three-person Hamilton County Board of Commissioners.

The fact that an Independent candidate with no political party backing was the only one to show up demonstrates that the party candidates are in this for themselves and not for the residents of Hamilton County. This event was billed as an opportunity to showcase the different perspectives of the three candidates running for the open seat. The candidate from Indian Hill and the candidate from Bond Hill provided two-minute recorded statements which were played for the LIVE audience. The candidate from Price Hill stepped up onto the hot seat and ended up in a solo fireside chat with the studio staff as he answered questions on LIVE TV as they were emailed in by viewing residents.

Dr. Najoli is the only candidate who has the interests of the people of Hamilton County at heart. Voters must repudiate the party candidates on November 3rd by voting for the non-party candidate. In this studio chat, Dr. Najoli highlighted the 2008 backroom deal that the Hamilton County democratic party and the Hamilton County republican party engineered to prevent voters from voting for a commissioner. The parties took away the voters' right to vote for a commissioner in 2008 by colluding in an awful backroom deal! They must be held accountable for this great threat to our democracy. On November 3rd we must rebuke them by voting for the Independent candidate running for open seat on the County Commission. Vote Najoli for Commissioner on November 3rd.
