FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Statement from Mann is false, improperly drafted, and awful.

WEST PRICE HILL, OH – I just received a statement from Mr. David Mann requesting for my signature on a statement that begins, 'As candidates for the office of Mayor of Cincinnati, we have studied the proposed Affordable Housing Charter Amendment...'. As a citizen of Cincinnati and outsider of politics, I am troubled by several things.

First, to say that 'we have studied' is not correct. I have not been part of any study with Mr. Mann or with any other candidate for Mayor. I am an educator and, in my classes, if a Project Team (group of students) tell me that they 'have studied', yet there is no evidence of a meeting of minds, that is very problematic.

Second, this document requesting for my signature on a time-sensitive issue is not dated. This is a noticeably big problem of a person failing to cross the t's and dot the i's. These are the types of issues that are rampant at City Hall which I will end as Mayor.

Third, Mr. Mann should prioritize educating the public on the issue instead of resorting to the awful practice of shooting off private emails to select persons for the sake of garnering support. This kind of email is an example of under-the-table dealing that has ruined the public's trust in City Hall.

Due to the identified problems, I will not join in supporting Mr. Mann's request.

As a leader at City Hall, I will hold colleagues accountable to legitimately studying issues together, properly drafting documentation, and conducting work in the eye of the public rather than through emails or text messages. I am the educator that Cincinnati needs for Mayor to change the culture at City Hall. David Mann should publicly apologize for sending this email out and commit to focus on educating the public.
